

Revealing the Cultural Divide

Between Application Security and Development

Does the divide exist?

It's time to recognize the cultural divide. Perceptions of AppSec and Development are at odds, so there's work to be done.

Understanding motivation and perception is critical

AppSec feels Developers lack interest in building secure applications. "It's just not their focus."

Partnerships suffer in the absence of consensus

Developers are under pressure to deliver capabilities fast but "AppSec gets in the way."

